

This course is divided into three parts:

This 3 months course is specially designed to cover everything essential for becoming an artist & for making original paintings, guiding you comprehensively from the basics to the advanced level.

Part –1

Deconstruction
(Fundamentals & Basics)

30 Days

Part –2

Realism (Charcoal, Oil Pastels & Acrylic)

30 Days

Part –3

The Art of Meaning

30 Days

Part - 1

Deconstruction: Basics

Build a strong foundation in drawing through structured practice and proven techniques. This 3 months workshop teaches essential skills from line control to concept-based artistic thinking.

Day 1: Line, Shapes & Forms

Basic Shapes

Circle, square, triangle — the foundation of all drawing

3D Forms

Cube, sphere, cylinder, cone — building blocks of reality

Construction Method

Break objects into shapes, draw forms from different angles

Homework: Convert 5 real objects into basic forms. Students start constructing, not copying.

Days 2-3: Perspective & Light

Day 2: Perspective

Understand depth through horizon lines, vanishing points, and 1-point perspective. Draw boxes in different angles.

Day 3: Light & Shadow

Create depth using highlights, midtones, shadows, and cast shadows. Shade spheres and cubes with clear light sources, charcoal shading & blending.

Day 4: Observation & Proportion

Objects placed at an elevated height—such as a pencil, box, pot and similar everyday items—arranged in a way that allows you to study their form, proportion, and perspective from a slightly higher viewpoint.

Proportion

Balancing shapes & sizes of the object

Practice Exercise

Draw from real objects, create simple still life compositions.

Homework: Draw the same object twice — once from observation, once from memory. Reduced guessing, improved accuracy.

Day 5: Anatomy & Body Design

Human Anatomy

- Full Body
- Relative Measurement
- Body Parts

Body Design

- Different Shapes
- Relative Measurement
- Anatomical Measurements

From Different Angles

- Right-Left
- Up & Down
- Shading & Coloring

Male & Female

- Structures Formation
- Easy Hidden Techniques
- Body Parts

Learn to draw human body in a frame for applying in your original painting/ drawing.

Day 6: Human Eye

Eye from different angles

- Structure
- Eye ball Placement

Charcoal shading - Coloring

- Highlights & Depth
- Expressionism

Details

- Veins
- & Other Details

📄 Practice: Create 3 compositions of the same object, experiment with placement.

Homework: 3 thumbnail sketches with different layouts

Day 7: Value Simplification

Composition

Big shapes first, Details later
Simplifying colors or shades in three tones

Rule of Thirds

Positioning the composition

Practice: Create 3 compositions of the same object, experiment with placement.

Homework: 3 thumbnail sketches with different layouts

What You've Learned

Line Control

Hand confidence and precise mark-making

Shapes & Forms

Construction and 3D thinking

Perspective

Dimensional drawing techniques

Light & Shadow

Creating depth and volume

Observation

Proportion and accurate seeing

Composition

Visual hierarchy and storytelling

Concept Art

Artistic thinking with purpose

Part 2: Realism

Charcoal, Oil Pastels & Acrylic — A 30 days deep dive into the foundations, techniques, and mastery of realistic art-making across three powerful mediums.

Day 1: Shaped Structure

FOUNDATION OF REALISM

The first day lays the groundwork for everything that follows — understanding how to see before you draw, and how to build form from observation rather than assumption.

Charcoal & Oil Pastel Paper in 3D

Understanding how flat paper becomes a window into real, three-dimensional form through mark-making.

Nibu Relative Measurement

Using the Nibu method to measure proportions relatively — the key to accurate, believable structure.

Observation vs Assumption

Training the eye to draw what is actually there — not what the brain assumes should be there.

DAY 2

Values: Light & Shadow Mastery

Medium: Oil Pastel & Charcoal

Value is the single most powerful tool in realism. This day is dedicated entirely to understanding and controlling the full tonal range — from the brightest highlight to the deepest shadow.

The Value Scale

Highlight → Midtone → Core Shadow → Reflected Light — each zone has a distinct role in creating believable form.

Charcoal Control

Mastering pressure, blending, and the art of erasing highlights — using the eraser as a drawing tool, not just a correction tool.

Day 3: Depth & Form

3D ILLUSION — OIL PASTELS

The goal of realism is to make a flat surface feel three-dimensional. Day 3 focuses on the techniques that create convincing depth and volume.

Hard vs Soft Edges

Hard edges bring objects forward; soft edges push them back. Knowing when to use each is the mark of a skilled realist.

Blending Techniques

Controlled blending — smooth transitions without losing form or creating muddy, undefined passages.

Light Source Defined

Every object must have one clearly defined light source. Consistency in light direction is what makes a composition feel unified and real.

Day 4: Broken Objects & Detail

OIL PASTEL & ACRYLIC

Texture is where realism becomes truly convincing. This day explores the logic behind rendering different surface types — and the discipline of knowing where not to add detail.

Stone & Wood

Organic textures with irregular grain, cracks, and tonal variation — rendered with layered strokes.

Metal & Mirror

High-contrast reflective surfaces — sharp edges, extreme value shifts, and environmental reflections.

Contrast Control

Where to push detail and where to leave areas loose — guiding the viewer's eye with intention.

Day 5: Acrylic Realism Basics

MEDIUM: ACRYLIC

Acrylic is a powerful and versatile medium — but it demands a solid understanding of color theory. Day 5 breaks down the fundamentals of color mixing with a special focus on skin tones.

Color Mixing Fundamentals

Understanding how pigments interact, how to mix clean colors, and how to avoid the most common mixing mistakes beginners make.

Skin Tones Breakdown

No "peach shortcut." Real skin tones are complex mixtures of warm and cool hues — reds, yellows, blues, and greens all play a role depending on light and shadow.

Warm vs Cool Tones

Every shadow has warmth or coolness relative to the light. Understanding this relationship is what separates flat painting from luminous, living color.

Exercise: Create a full range of skin tones using a limited palette only — no pre-mixed convenience colors. Build every tone from scratch.

DAY 6

Blending & Layering

MEDIUM: ACRYLIC

Realism in acrylic is defined by smooth transitions and disciplined control. Day 6 is dedicated to the techniques that separate muddy, overworked paintings from rich, luminous ones.

01

Acrylic Blending Techniques

Wet-on-wet, wet-on-dry, and the use of retarder medium to extend working time for seamless transitions.

02

Layering for Richness

Building up transparent and semi-transparent layers to create depth, luminosity, and complexity that a single layer can never achieve.

03

Avoiding Muddy Color

Knowing when to stop blending, when to let layers dry, and how to keep colors clean and vibrant throughout the painting process.

Day 7: Composition in Realism

ALL CONCEPTS APPLIED

The final day brings everything together. A complete composition that draws on every skill developed across the week — structure, values, depth, texture, color, and blending — all working in harmony.

✓ Week Complete: By Day 7, every medium has been explored, every core concept applied. This final composition is proof of the full realism journey — from shaped structure to finished artwork.

The Art of Meaning

30 Days to Concept Art Mastery

Learn how to translate emotions and creativity into art that speaks from the soul.

Transform Emotion Into Visual Expression

30 Days

Intensive alternate day sessions

1 Hour

Focused learning alternate days

Your Goal

Express emotions, not just create decoration

This course teaches you to move beyond copying references and discover your unique artistic voice.

Day 1: What Is Concept Art?

- Understanding the difference between decorative and expressive art
- Art as communication of emotions and ideas
- Discovering the deeper purpose behind your creations

Day 2: Idea Generation

Making ideas from observation,
Personal experiences → concepts,
basics of metaphor & symbolism

Day 3: Visual Storytelling

Storytelling in one frame, composition & focus techniques, power of negative space

Task: Write one emotion you want to express through your art

Days 4-5: Depth & Execution

Day 4: Symbolism & Depth

- Using symbols that carry layers of meaning
- Handling complex themes with confidence
- Trusting your audience to interpret

Day 5: Bringing Ideas to Life

Focus on strong composition while maintaining balance between your core message and visual details.

01

Composition

Drive the viewer's eye

03

Embrace Mistakes

Learning through practice

02

Balance Message

Message vs detail balance

Days 6-7: Completion & Artist Mindset

Day 6: Final Artwork

Complete your piece using a self-review checklist to ensure quality.

Day 7: Artist Statement

Write a short artist statement explaining your work and vision.

Share & Present

Build confidence in presenting and explaining your artistic choices.

Final Deliverables

Complete Concept Artwork

One finished piece that expresses your unique vision and emotion.

Artist Statement

A short-written explanation of your artistic intent and process.

Perfect For

Beginners

Starting your artistic journey with strong foundations.

Self-Taught Artists

Ready to level up your skills and understanding.

Artists Stuck Copying

Break free from the "only copying" stage and find your voice.

Your Transformation Awaits

3 Months Later

You'll have the confidence to create on your own, without relying on copying references.

Discover Your Answer

"What am I without reference?"

Find your unique artistic identity and express emotions that only you can convey. This is where your true creative journey begins.

Hands-On Tasks

Practical exercises each day
